

Approach to Treatment of the Baby

About the Author

Reggie Boehme, OT, 1945-2004

Reggie Boehme graduated from Western Michigan University with a B.S. degree in occupational therapy. She was a certified occupational therapy instructor in NDT and lectured internationally on topics related to neurological dysfunction.

Regi's contributions were many and unique. Having had polio at age 1, Regi grew up discovering motor skills with hard work and an understanding at a cognitive level. These cognitive memories gave her a unique perspective, and provided her with the ability to observe, understand, and analyze her patients core issues and skill needs.

These "intuitive" observations helped her to find the bottom line issues and led to her contributions in the book she co-authored with Barbara Cupps and Rona Alexander on Typical Development in the First Year of Life.

Regi was one of the first OT instructors of the Neurodevelopmental Treatment Approach in the US. This led her on a path of world renown clinical skills; becoming an inspiring down to earth teacher. The material in both her seminars and publications is always clear and practical.

About the Illustrator

John Boehme graduated from St. Norberts College with a B.S. degree in psychology. His avocation of stained glass designing has led to his "love of line." expressed in his illustrations. He was the executive director of Boehme Workshops, offering state of the art continuing education opportunities to individuals involved in the care of children with neurological dysfunction.

Topic Index

Important Information (playlist #1)

About the Author (playlist #2)

Topic Index (playlist #3)

Introduction (playlist #4)

Considerations in Assessment and Treatment (playlist #5)

Approach to Treatment of the Baby (playlist #6)